

Bio Medical Service and Repair Technician

Medical Device Manufacturer in Ramsey, New Jersey has a great opportunity and seeks full or part time technician to perform repairs, testing and calibrating of laboratory and medical devices used to collect and process blood and cellular products.

Job Requirements:

- Must be able to read, analyze and interpret technical literature, schematics and technical drawings;
- Ability to communicate and discuss detailed information about our devices to customers, quality control and other biomed techs;
- Relevant experience in electronics, mechanical instrumentation or medical devices is imperative;
- Computer literacy and knowledge of Microsoft programs is important;
- Must be detail oriented and have good organizational and time management skills;
- Must possess a Bachelor's or Associate's degree or equivalent experience.

Competitive salary and benefits package including 401(k)

To apply, send Email resume to: HR@genesibps.com

About Us:

GenesisBPS is a manufacturer and distributor of medical and laboratory devices created expressly to meet the needs and demands of Community Blood Centers, Hospital Blood Banks, Military Blood Collection, Animal Blood Banks, Veterinary Hospitals, Blood Processing Laboratories, Biotechnology Research and Scientific Organizations requiring high-quality, high-performing products for the processing of blood, blood components and other human and laboratory fluids.

GenesisBPS has been in business for over 38 years. We have created a product portfolio which encompasses a wide range of items designed to meet the unique and demanding needs of blood collection and processing organizations as well as biotech companies researching the newest technologies. Whether a customer looking for Thawing Devices, Sterile Tube Welders, Blood Collection Mixers and Tube Sealers, or blood bags, transfer sets and ancillary supplies, we stock it all. We pride ourselves on having one of the largest inventories of these specialty products in the world!

For more information visit our website: www.genesibps.com